THE DISTRICT GOVERNMENT.

In submitting their annual estimates to Congress for appropriations for the various charitable institutious receiving appropriations, the Commissioners recommend that an officer be appointed to supervise all disburse ments of public funds for eleemosynary and correctional purposes. The following are the estimates submitted:

washington Asylum, $55.915; Reform School, $47.976; Industrial Home School, $11,000; Columbia Hospital and Lying-in Asylum, $15,000; Women's Christian Association, $4,000; National Association for Colored Women and Children, $10,000; Children's Hospital, $5,000; St. Ann's Infant Asylum, $6,000; Church Orphanage, $1,500; Hospital for Foundlings, $7,000; Homsepathic Hospital, $5,000; Works of Mercy, $6,000; National Temperance Home, $2,500; Central Dispensary, $3,000.

The residents and property owners of Ana costia having petitioned the Commissioners for a hand engine to be used for extinguishing fires, the matter was referred to Chief Parris for his recommendations in the premises. The Chief promptly reported that he ises. The Chief promptly reported that he will be able to extend the fire district so as to take in Anacostia when his new fire engine-house in East Washington is completed, which will be very shortly. He states also that a six-inch water main is to be extended across the bridge, and he will then not have to depend on the Eastern Branch for water. He auggests that box 532 be creeted in Anacostia. D. F. McGowan, secretary of the board of trustees of the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, has written the Commissioners stating that the trustees object to the issuance of a license to sell liquor at the northeast corner of Fourth and C streets southeast. The Western Union Telegraph Company has been granted a permit to erect taller polls on Seventh street road from Boundary street to the District line: also a new pole at Seventh and Boundary streets.

A MOVE TO DISCONTINUE PUBLIC HYDRANTS There is a disposition on the part of the District Commissioners to discontinue the erection of public hydrauts, and also to charge water rent against property in the vicinity of water rent against property in the vicinity of such hydrants for the use of the Potomac water they get from them. The following re-port of Captain Lusk in charge of th Weater Department has been approved by the Com-missioners. Public hydrants are a very heavy burden to the Water Department, both for erection and maintenance. The persons who get water from them pay absolutely nothing toward providing for the hydrant or the water. The people who nay for the water they use toward providing for the hydrant or the water. The people who pay for the water they use also pay for the quantity used by the people supplied from these hydrants. They are also nuisances, wearing out the pavement and sidewalk and keeping the gutters in a filthy condition. Some decided steps should be taken to secure legislation which will make the hydrants self-sustaining. There is no reason which can be urged against the erection of this particular hydrant which cannot also be urged against the existence of every he orged against the existence of every hydrant in the city. I recommend that the hydrant be creeted as requested.

Also that you will cause planking to be laid between the tracks the full width of the road." They have also decided to domand that a night flagman be placed at the Baltimore & Potomac Kaliroad crussing at this village.

POMEROY STREET IMPROVEMENTS. C. B. Purvis of the Freedman's Hos ! pital has been informed in reply to his request that the contractor improving Pomeroy atreet be required to complete it before winter; that the delay is not due to any lack on the part of the contractor, but the fact that the District is unable to keep contractors supplied with construction materials owing to the set date as which the appropriation bill was passed. They have no early for the contractors for Pomeroy street, and there is little probability that they will have any before medium.

"I have heard nothing directly, except in the manner just related, through the press, from either Judge Rucker or General Moore. I shall therefore give no attention to these publications further than this brief mention of them. I feel, however, that it is due to the public and myself to make the following statement:

"I shall always lasist that Judge Rucker's conduct in making public a conversation had with the President in an interview procured for him by me was wholly inexcusable. His report of that conversation was entirely inaccurate. I regret, however, that the language I used in characterizing his conduct was so strong and cuphatic, and will say, upon reflection, that I should have simply contradicted statements I knew to be incorrect and unjust to Mr. Elevaland and myself. As for myself, this matter is ended, and I have no doubt the public will be giad to know it."

A SCENE IN COURT.

Young Woman who Testified Without Blush to her Shame.

A young woman, perhaps twenty-four or five years old, whose face retained disease, was placed on the stand in the Criminal Court to-day to testify to her own shame. The case was one of those to which society shuts its eyes, cherishing a comfortable belief that such degraded misery has no existence except in the imagination of some purveyor of "realistic" romance.

The defendant on trial was a negress charged with keeping a house of the lowest character. Even in her low con-dition there was a contrast between this girl and her associates that gave her an air of semi-refinement.

Her language was good English, tainted only in accent and intonation with the patols of the slums. She looked straight before her and told, without a blush or tremor, the repulsive routine of her daily life. life. She had appeared in the Police Court and was attended there by a young col-ored man, who was radiant in loud clothing and jewelry. Her only ambition at that time seemed to be to protect this man, who was shown to be her para-mour, from any danger from the law. She is well along in the see-saw jour-ney upon which almost all of her class embark, sooner or later-from squalid shame to the workhouse and back again, until a pauper's grave provides security and shelter.

An Irish Member of Parliament Arrested in the Lobby of the House.

Losnov, Nov. 27. -My. David Sheehy, member for South Galway, a nationalist, topped the debate in the House of Comradglet, appealing to the chairand that he was leaving the House when an attendant handed him what appeared to be an ordinary visitor's card. Upon going to the lobby a constable from Ireland served him with a summons under the coercion act. He moved to re-port progress in order to give the House an opportunity to discuss this audacious breach of privilege.

Mr. Baifour depiored the incident and did not know under what authority it had happened. He entirely disapproved of such measures occurring within the precincts of the House.

Sir William Harcoutt held the Gov.

ernment responsible for the instructions which had been given the constable serving the summons. The dignity of the House was affronted by it and an inquiry was therefore necessary.

Mr. Balfour disclaimed responsibility for the act, and stated that he would give an emphatic pledge that so far as the of occurred Sunday night, thirty miles east of this city. The Denver vestibuled express coming West and a freight train came together. The engineers of the two locomotives saw each other's headlight in time to jump and save themselves, after reducing speed. The locomotives were demolished. A tramp, who was stealing a ride on the front end of an express car, was killed. Several passengers were badly shaken, but not seriously injured. Two cars of the freight train, loaded with hogs, were wrecked and some sixty of the animals killed. The conductor says the vestibule system saved the passenger train from wreckage and the passengers from injury.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Daily News says it learns from official sources that in the recent interview between the Pope and Count Herbert Bismarck the former remarked: "If the events of 1870 had depended upon me, everything would have been speedily arranged. Now, after the lapse of so much time, it is more difficult, but I shall regain the time lost."

Count Herbert replied: "God has not made it possible for a man to recall a single moment.
